

FAR – Early Project Development Planning Grant

The Oklahoma Aeronautics Commission (Commission) and the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) have entered into a new joint venture. The Commission has taken the lead role in collecting most of the federal administrative required documents. Once all the items listed below have been received by the Commission, it will forward the completed package to the FAA for its determination. It is important to note that FAA cannot act on a project without first making a determination on several of the federal administrative required documents.
